

Jeff Trulick,
Ecologist, HQUSACE OWPR

Jeff Trulick is an ecologist currently working at USACE Headquarters in the Office of Water Project Review. He conducts policy reviews on large planning reports and other CW project related documents. Prior to joining OWPR in 2008 Jeff spent 10 years in Baltimore District's Planning Division in a variety of roles in NAB's Civil Works program including project management, planning study management and responsibility for NEPA and associated environmental compliance. He also served Jacksonville District in both a lead NEPA role and as a project manager for two large projects. Prior to working in Baltimore's Planning Division, Jeff had worked for six years as a Regulatory Project Manager in Baltimore evaluating permit applications for a variety of project types. Jeff has a B.S in Biology from Penn State University.